The Backpower Program David Imrie, Lu Barbuto

Back problems affect more people over longer periods of time than any other physical condition—and they are unsurpassed for testing the patience of both doctors and sufferers. A revolutionary program—Back Power—has been created by an occupational health physician and a chiropractor. Together, Imrie and Barbuto challenge the notion of "physician versus chiropractor," bringing an interdisciplinary approach to the problems associated with the diagnosis, treatment and management of back pain—with resounding success.
